Dairy Herd Near Blue Ridge Stricken Dead

A herd of 35 head of Holstein cattle, valued at between $7,000 and $8,000 were stricken dead on the Benny Cook dairy farm near Blue Ridge recently. Dr. J. P. Derryberry and Dr. Elmo King, veterinarians of this city, who was called to the Cook farm, are of the opinion that death was caused from arsenic poisoning. Experts say poison in feed was a likely cause but nothing definite has been determined.

Dr. Derryberry said Thursday he believed the poison was in only one bale of hay.

Mrs. Cook said they fed 12 bales of hay to 50 head of cattle in the pasture. The dead included 20 of their best milk cows and six large heifers. The other 24 head have not been affected. And across the fence in another pasture, 17 young heifers and a pony were not stricken, although a portion of the hay was thrown over the fence to them.

Dr. Derrybe[illegible]y said the poison might have gotten onto some grass during the poisoning of grasshoppers last summer and a small amount of it got baled into cattle feed.

Scholarships In Driver Education Granted To NTSC

Renewal for the third consecutive year of a $4,000 grant to North Texas State College Denton, for summer scholarship to train high school driver education teachers, has been announced by the Allstate Foundation in Dallas.

W. A. Cooper, NTSC driver education instructor, said the fund would provide a $100 scholarship for 33 students this summer.

The program is designed for teachers who will participate in driver education in their high schools next school year, he said. The foundation was established by the Allstate Insurance Co. to stimulate more and better high school driver education courses.

Classes designed to certify driver education teachers will be offered at the college both semesters this summer, the first beginning June 5 and ending July 14. Two courses will be conducted from July 16 to Aug. 23.

The driver education program, organized by Cooper, has been offered at NTSC since 1949.

RECENTLY ROY RAPER Commander of the American Legion, Jimmie Geigos Post, No. 96 of McKinney thanked the Legion Organizations of Texas and Oklahoma, Congressmen, and Senators from both States and other citizens for the help in carrying the message regarding the Veterans Hospital in McKinney. This section of Your Home Towners team along with many other citizens did do some work on the muchly important project but it seems in Your

LET'S SAY the year is 1970.

You're standing in the middle of a downtown intersection in Fort Worth at night. There isn't an automobile or truck in sight.

There are no curbs. No one has been maimed. We must ever have safety in our efforts. Thanks to the Legion Organizations of Texas and Oklahoma and every other organization that played a part.

That's the picture presented Saturday to a meeting of more than 200 Fort Worth and Tarrant County residents at a Fort Worth club luncheon.

The king-sized face lifting plan was presented by Victor Gruen & Associates of Los Angeles, New York and Detroit after research initiated by the Texas Electric Service Company.

Orderly presenting of the plan dropped back to 1956 long enough to say that at the present rate of growth, Fort Worth's downtown street system will have to be enlarged by more than 300 per cent to handle the traffic in 1970 under the present street system.

The Gruen organization estimates that by 1970, Fort Worth should have 9,600,000 square feet of marketing space downtown, compared with 3,800,000 now.

To a lot of people this story would seem fantastic, both large and small are looking and building to the future and it would be well for McKinney to have the forward look. Now we don't say that we will be like Ft. Worth but in comparison we do and we will have very definite problems. McKinney will be a little city of 25,000 in the next few years so why not step up our planning program because its later than you think, dear Brothers and Sisters.

Home Towners way of thinking that the entire citizenship of McKinney, Collin County, Texas and Oklahoma should pay respect to all the Legion organizations from both large and small on the very definite stand that was taken. With the help of these great organizations, we fought very seriously is as much headway would have changes of vehicles and pedestrians, whiffs of noxious fumes when the traffic lights change because there are not traffic lights—or traffic.

Although all participating players turned in "fair performances" last night on defense, James Norvell, a 175-pound, up from the B team, playing at middle-guard for the Blues, probably turned in the outstanding defensive performance of the night. Byrd also looked very good for the Blues at his outside linebacker spot. Kruse, a fine-looking QB prospect, up from Junior High, was used only sparingly on 2 occasions in relief of Joplin, the Blues starting QB, however, he displayed his ability by turning in a good defensive game from an end position, along with Wharton, the other end. Bob Hooper, at tackle, also turned in an acceptable performance.

For the Whites, Billy Ellenburg, Charlie Powell, and Joe Powell in the line, and Marshall at linebacker, and McIntire at halfback looked good.

What are the football prospects for 1956?

The Lions will be a "year older and wiser" next fall and with 17 returning lettermen and some good boys up from the freshmen team, their supporters might be in for a surprise.

They will have more depth for a change, and some lively battles for starting positions will likely develop during fall training.

Without doubt, the Lions with 4 fast-stepping and hard-running lads in Byrd, Locke, Williams and McIntire, will be well fortified at the halfback posts next season.

Gerald Marshall looks like a capable fullback. Joplin, Landers, Stewart and Kruse will battle for the starting spot.

In the line, the Lions will also have more depth, and it will be interesting to watch the battles for the starting spots up front next fall.

With a "little improvement here and there" the Lions could be tough in 1956.

Dallas Commerce, Sherman, Denison, Bonham, Paris, Springs, Greenville and Gainesville Denton, Kiwanians and their wives settled to host and the Commerce Club's delegation of 6. All clubs had at least delegates in attendance needed to make a quorum.

The Conference Chairman, Lt. Governor Clint Fitzgerald of Dallas, Park Bramwell, Lieutenant Governor for the coming year, and Jack Highlight of the evening was the address by Rev. W. W. Redfield of Commerce Club. Dan of Men at ESTC. Mr. Redfield reminded all Kiwanians that the Club's motto is "We Build," and the finest thing that we can build is the young people. Key Clubs in the high schools all over the nation. A very fine Key Club is to be found in Boys High here in McKinney. Mr. Rollins's talk challenged all the membership to redouble its collective efforts in this primary and fundamental work since youth is the keystone of America's tomorrow. Only in working together, Mr. Rollins pointed out, do Kiwanians come to know the true meaning of Fellowship, which inter-club meetings help to foster. His talk was warmly received and a fitting climax to a very enjoyable evening.

Ladies of the First Methodist Church honored the local Club and its visitors with a delicious steak dinner, and local guests included J. F. Rollins, brother of the speaker, brought by C. J. Young, and Rev. Albert Snider, guest of John Barry.

The local club is planning a hundred per cent attendance at the dining hall of Austin College in Sherman on April 10, the occasion being the official visit of the Divisional Governor. All clubs in the district plan to be present as a group, and to bring the ladies since it is a ladies night affair. Dinner will be served at the dinning hall and an entertaining program will follow, in honor of the officers of Division 8. McKinney is honored to have the Lt.-Governor this year, our own C. J. Young.

Nutritions for Senior Citizens . . .

It's commonplace nowadays to have a long life. Proper food can help to make those extra years happier and healthier.

Complaints of a chronic tired feeling, gloomy outlook on life, anxiety over small things and loss of sleep often are caused from being poorly nourished. The right food helps the body to be at its best and, if illness strikes, a well-nourished body responds better to treatment than one in a run-down condition.

Age doesn't change the kinds of food needed by the body for proper functioning. Some adjustments may be needed to take care of special problems. For instance, overweight may become a problem as activities decrease unless the amount of food is decreased.

A good plan is to cut down on the amount of food eaten rather than to eliminate any one thing. This does not cause discomfort.

The Texas Food Standard is a guide to good health. By planning meals for the day to include foods from each of the seven groups, you are sure to get enough of the nutritions you need.

Coastal Bermuda Grass Dose Well Where Adapted . . .

Coastal Bermuda grass offers a real opportunity for forage production where adapted and properly managed. Tests and farm experience with this hybrid show its value.

Several advantages of coastal over common Bermuda are these. It produces more grazing or hay, is deeper rooted and more drouth tolerant; has large stems and leaves and grows more upright; more efficient user of water and fertilizer; more disease resistant; grows earlier in the spring and later in the fall and under good grazing conditions because established more quickly.

Coastal is a sterile hybrid and must be started from sprigs or rhizones. It is adapted to the area in Texas east of the 30 inch rainfall belt but under irrigation can grow westward until the 3,000 foot elevation is reached. The grass has exceptional ability to respond to fertilizer and will produce well with medium fertility. Don't expect much on poor soil. It is furnishing good grazing on some soils that have been considered worthless be-

RESOLUTION

Resolutions for Grace Fox McKinney

Whereas our beloved Grace Fox McKinney was called from this earthly life on February 15, 1956, and her passing has caused a great and untimely loss to her dear family and staunch friends.

The members of the Entre Nous Club pay lovingly the highest tribute to her memory and her Christian character and to the high ideals for which she stood at all times.

Forever we shall feel her presence. The vacancy she left in the club cannot be filled but her place in the heart of each member will be cherished with love and admiration for her. It is with grief-stricken hearts we shall miss her. We shall cherish the memory that she was loaned us.

For many years she shed a loving gladness
Where'er her footsteps trod.
And now with the star of hope to cheer our sadness
We give her back to God."

We extend our heartfelt sympathy to Edgar, George, John, Norma, Martha, Maude, Titus, and her grandchildren.

May a copy of these resolutions be sent to each member of the family and a copy recorded in the permanent records of the Entre Nous Club.

May a page in the yearbook be dedicated to the memory of Grace.

Edelweiss Club Meets With Mrs. Burton

Mmes E. L. Burton and Grover Burton were hostess to the Edelweiss Club Friday, March 2, for a program with "Our Texas Heritage" for its theme.

At the opening of the business meeting Mrs. J. H. Elliott read the Federated Women's Club Collect as a prayerful invocation.

Some of the more colorful and humorous facets of our Texas life were revealed as club members answered roll call with a Texas Brag.

Mrs. Julius Smith displayed the Edelweiss Club Press Book she has compiled this club year, and delighted club members with its stunning appearance and make up. As Chairman of the Executive Committee Mrs. Smith also showed club members the Pulpit Cloth honoring the memory of Mrs. Wallace Hughston which would be presented to the First Methodist Church from the Edelweiss Club.

A bake sale was discussed and scheduled for Saturday morning, March 10, unless members were otherwise notified.

As chairman of Texas Heritage, Mrs. Grady Jackson introduced Mrs. George Reinhardt and Mrs. Harry Hoy, both of whom had the task of recreating some of our Texas History for the program.

Mrs. Reinhardt told an entertaining account of the Old Stone Fort at Nacogdoches. She mentioned the probable date of construction as 1716, and related excerpts from its long and colorful history-including its destruction and eventual rebuilding.

Mrs. Harry C. Hoy described the Alamo, its founding and early history, and then gave a moving description of the final battle of the Alamo as a fitting close to this recapitulation of our Texas past.

During the social hour the hostesses served an attractive salad plate to members and one guest, Mrs. Adam Bond. The Edelweiss Club then adjourned, to meet March 16 with Mrs. John Hooper. This will be a guest day program, with Miss Carlotta Corpron of the Art Department of T. S. C. W. as the speaker. Miss Corpron, a nationally known figure in the world of abstract design in photography, will lecture on Modern Photographic Art, and display some of her prints which have been shown in schools and museums throughout the country.

Miss Whattley's colors, of pink and white, were used in the decoration of the reception hall, where bouquets of japonica, stock, carnations and narcissus were placed at vantage points. The all pink table was covered in pink net over pink satin, with a bride doll cake in the center. This confection was a work of art, and a most fitting decoration for the table. The appointments were in crystal and silver, and during the evening punch and angel squares were served with nuts and mints to 85 guests. The cake squares were frosted in pink and topped with white wedding bells. Mrs. Gene Vier poured punch while Mrs. John Butler served the cake.

A musical diversion was enjoyed with Mrs. Tom Brunson receiving the prize after which the honoree was presented with a miscellaneous shower of lovely and useful gifts for her future home.

Senator Ray Roberts Guest Of Owl Club

The Owl Club observed Texas Day Friday, March 2nd, in the home of Mrs. W. W. Dowell. Sixty-three years ago the Owl Club was organized, Mrs. McDowell being a charter member. A real Texas welcome was given each guest by the hostess and her sister, Miss Mattie White.

Mrs. E. M. Muaroe, preside it, presided over a short business session during which time arrangements for future meetings were completed.

Mrs. D. E. O'Brien and Mrs. George H. Jones will receive the club in the home of Mrs. O'Brien on March 16, at which time a program will be presented by students of the Fine Arts Department of Austin College.

A meeting with Mrs. Robert Duvall of Greenville will be h.ld in the near future.

The guest speaker of the afternoon was a native son of McKinney and Collin County, the Honorable Ray Roberts, Senator of the 9th District.

In presenting his address, his sincere and forth-right manner, and his knowledge and insight into public affairs, both state and national, were felt immediately, and made his listeners, who were less familiar perhaps with affairs of state and democratic principles were free to ask questions concerning pending and proposed legislation not quite plain or understandable to the average voter.

This proved a most interesting and informing discussion. The nine amendments to the State Constitution, which are to be voted on in November, were explained in detail, much to the satisfaction of those not yet familiar with them. An interesting discussion of important and decisive affairs of Texas concerning water supply, the tide lands, the right of interposition and proposed changes in the Constitution of Texas, was most instructive.

The members of the Owl Club are indeed grateful to our Senator for his ability and patience in helping to enlighten us on important legislation and affairs concerning our state and nation.

A rising vote of thanks was extended to him which formally expressed the appreciation of the Owl Club for such an informative talk—but deep in the heart of each member had ben planted a sincere desire, a greater loyalty, a more honest effort, to answer the question truthfully, "What is my duty as a real Texan and as an honest American?"

To arouse the desire to make one want to know his duty must be a great satisfaction to a speaker. This our speaker did.

The club desires to express again its appreciation to Senator Roberts for his willingness, time and effort in bringing to us such a splendid interpretation to present legislation and the seriousness of certain impending legislation.

In the attractive refreshment plate was served a delicious confection in the form of a replica of Texas, together with nuts and coffee.

Appendix: "The Owl Club expresses its love and deepest appreciation of Mrs. W. W. McDowell, our beloved charter member.

We know her to be a true, loyal friend, whose ideals and integrity are of the highest, whose love for God, family, friends and country are first in her heart and life, who is a true friend of the home town, county, state and nation, and for the ongoing of every movement and undertaking that will help to make the world a better place in which to live."

"Long live Miss Josie!"
